FIGHT OVER BIG ESTATE.

New England Heirs of Chicago Man in Litigation.

Litigation affecting a will involv-ing an estate of $1,500,000 and which is of interest to Connecticut people, has started in the United States circuit court in Chicago and may reach the superior court of this state. Two or three years ago, Daniel B. Shipman died at Chicago, leaving an estate valued at $1,500,000, bequeathed in trust mostly to charitable institu-tions of that city. Among his horse tions of that city. Among his heirs were Mrs. Olive J. Cone of Haddam, a sister, who, under the will, was to receive the income of $15,000 during her lifetime, and Mrs. James A. Jones of Deep River, a niece, who was given $2,000 outright. $2,000 outright.

It is assested in the complaint that in the declining years of his life, Mr. Shipman became acquainted with the president of the Illinois Trust and Carolina visitor to the Commercial club Wednesday night. Somebody has to mend the socks.
And starch the frocks.
And clean the crocks.
Somebody has to wash the floors.
Somebody has to boll and bake,
And fry the steak.
Somebody has to buy things cheap,
And wash and sweep.
With little sleep—
That's Mother.

Somebody has to moil and toil,
And freeze or broil.
Somebody has to look ahead.
Sometimes with dread.
Somebody has to do the work
(No chance to shirk).
And by and by,
With one more sigh.
That's both of them.
